ATWOOD ESCAPES DEATH IN OCEAN

Picked Up by Fishermen as He Is About to Sink.

Lynn, Mass., January 1.—Harry N. Atwood narrowly escaped death when he fell into the ocean near Point of Pines from a height of 100 feet shortly after he started from here to Portland, Me., in his hydroacroplane.

The machine was going nicely when the engine stopped and Atwood glided to the water. Three fishermen put out to him, but he called out that he was all right. From his seat he managed to start the engine and appeared to be rising from the water when a wave broke over him, wetting the magneto and tipping the machineto and tipping the machine backward. It began to sink and Atwood crawled up on the forward shoes, calling for help.

The rescuers reached him as he was Lynn, Mass., January 1 .- Harry N.

Demand of Loom Fixers May Involve 20,000 Cetton Operatives.

Lowell, Mass., January 1.—A demand for an advance in wages of 10 per cent. made by the loom fixers of the city created a stination to-day which ray involve the 20,000 cotton operatives here.

While the demand is made only by the loom fixers, 300 in number, it is equivalent to asking for increases for 15,000 operatives, since an increase cannot be given to them without applying it to all. The mill agents have expressed a willingness to discuss the matter, but it is said the present condition of the cotton industry would not warrant an increase.

Washington, D. C., January 1.—That Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel to-day stands a better chance than at any time thus far for appointment to the Supreme Court of the United States to succeed Justice Harlan is the opinion expressed in well informed quarters.

The shift toward Secretary Nagel is due to the storm of protest that is coming up from the country against the proposed appointment of Judge W C. Hook, of Kansas, of the Federal creatile bench. President Taft is being visited with numerous objections to the naming of Judge Hook on the ground that his decision in which he enjoined the authorities of Oklahoma from enforcing a 2-cent fare order by the Cklahoma Corporation Commission has shown him to be unfitted for the exalted position of Supreme Court justice.

Such is the opposition to Judge Hock that the probabilities are a determined effort will be made in the Senate to prevent his confirmation if he should be named. Powerful Senators from the States that are vitally interested in having the State lays as to railroad matters upheld are not pleased over the prospect of the Hock appointment, and sentiment in their States is likely to drive them into a fight against confirmation.

Meantime President Taft has given some of those who have asked about the situation to understand that the appointment is not yet foreclosed and that it is a mistake to suppose Secretary Nagel is out of consideration.
